While some patients became sick, others were protected by naturally occurring antibodies.

Soon after I was married we moved to the country where a neighbour told me about zucchini bread and such.

Certainly those rights would include the right of adults to choose not to be fixed, and to choose to live with bodies that aren't normal.